At Canadian Outback Adventures we are also able to provide facilitated events that address specific challenges or issues you are experiencing in your workplace. Recognizing that our event may only be one element of a bigger workshop, our facilitators work with the client to help maximize their return from the workshops by ensuring the activity is aligned and integrated to achieve the client's desired outcomes. Our definition of success is when teams have clarity of direction, focus on their critical issues, and place rigorous attention to the execution of plans they create and own.

Our various team building initiatives are chosen by well-known companies such as PricewaterhouseCoopers, Suncor Energy, Pharmasave, TELUS, Nokia, AXA-Pacific and Microsoft. We are also a preferred supplier to many of Canada's top meeting planners and destination management companies.

"I just wanted to send my sincerest thanks and appreciation for yet another wonderful Canadian Outback experience. Believe me, I am already one of your biggest advocates but it doesn't hurt to be reminded of just what amazing events, activities and adventures are out there to promote to the rest of my business or personal community! I look forward to bringing as much new business to you all again!!!" Ernst & Young
